

Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, Home economics is concerned with strengthening family life through education of the individual for family living, improving the goods and services used by families, helping families cope with economic changes, researching the changing needs of individuals and families and finding ways of satisfying these needs and furthering community, national and world conditions favorable to family living; and,

WHEREAS, Home economists are represented throughout the United States and in 78 countries worldwide by the International Federation for Home Economics; and,

WHEREAS, The International Federation for Home Economics believes in the importance of the inter-relationship of the family and independence of its members regardless of the diversity of world-wide family systems; and,

WHEREAS, The South Dakota Home Economics Association, an affiliate member of the International Federation for Home Economics, represents approximately 350 men and women in home economics actively engaged in teaching, research, extension, business, homemaking, dietetics, health, welfare, journalism, and communications; and,

WHEREAS, South Dakota home economists are to be recognized for their service to the families of this State:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAM J. JANKLOW, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim March 23, 1984, as in South Dakota, and commend this observance of our citizens.
